

Our desire is to restore families to the promise of fatherhood.

Like so many others, you offer the best you know how to give in loving your family everyday. But is it enough? What would it be like to have a long term vision to usher your kids through the ups and downs of life and initiate them into adulthood?

You have a good heart for your children and are very aware of the sacred responsibilities of parenthood. But, like so many others, you secretly carry a heavy burden...a fear that, in spite of everything you offer, it isn't enough. But regret and failure is not the inevitable outcome for your parenthood journey. Instead, you need something that is far too scarce for Dads and Moms like you: encouragement and hope. The fear you carry is not the final word. The problem is not you or your heart. There is a design for parenthood and you can understand it.

THE

Aric is the founder of The Intentional Dad, a ministry dedicated to awakening, equipping, and anointing men and families for the sacred promise and calling of fatherhood. He is an author, teacher, coach, and spiritual counselor who is passionate about shepherding men and their families on the journey to embrace and fulfill the promise of fatherhood. Aric lives in Michigan, is a father of three, and has been married to his best friend, Mary Jo, for thirty years. He has a Master's degree in Theological Studies, taught elementary age kids for five years, and offers more than two decades of experience as a father and, especially, his family's experience in living out a vision for a ten year initiation process for his sons and daughter. He now invites men and their families to set out on their own journey to discover the indescribable joy of intimate apprenticeship and intentional parenthood with Jesus.

Workshops: Generational Momentum

Breaking free from the unexamined currents of our past to find our way forward into God's promise of healing and transformation.

The Intentional Dad workshops combine teaching, conversation, solitude and silence, personal reflection, and prayer in pursuit of intimate encounters with God. Workshops are designed to be a practice of community built around the values of authenticity, vulnerability, humility, understanding, and safety as we share in the journey of finding “the narrow road” together.

“Family patterns from the past are played out in our present relationships without us necessarily being aware of it.” Peter Scazzero, Emotionally Healthy Spirituality

The truth is, many live their lives, navigating relationships at work, with friends and family, and with their children, largely unaware of a much bigger story at work silently shaping how they live and what they do. Few would argue that their family has had a significant impact on the person they are today. However, few have begun to examine and truly understand that impact. It is something I call generational momentum and it is a powerful force at work in our lives.

What might God have for us, then, if we would hear and accept an invitation to begin looking into the impact of generational momentum? What might we discover as we take time to look, as awareness grows, and understanding emerges? Jesus has an invitation for all of us...to see with our eyes, hear with our ears, and understand with our hearts and turn to him and find healing (Matthew 13:15). It is an invitation that starts with awareness, awareness that leads to him and the healing he offers each of us. That is a truly revolutionary invitation. So, The Intentional Dad is inviting you to take a very “intentional” step for you and your family. Join us for a one day workshop as, together, we begin to explore our stories of generational momentum and the impact of our families to our lives spiritually and emotionally.
